Mounted Games Fun for All Ages & Abilities

You don't need to be on a team, bring your mount and learn to play!

The youngest riders have fun and learn to ride effectively at the same time. Riding mounted games builds confidence, balance, and riding skills by focusing on the game. Games skills and knowledge is tested at certifications, quiz rally, and mounted games competitions.

Experienced riders practice training their horse to go obediently away from the group, ride up to barrels, wait for the riders commands, ride with one hand and without stirrups, reach for ground pick ups, mount independently and efficiently, vault onto their ponies, work well in hand, and not be afraid of noise like popping balloons and music.

Mounted Games at its highest level, displays a variety of relay races performed by confident riders on well-trained ponies; however, games can be competitive and fun at all ages and riding levels. Games is exciting for participants and spectators alike.
